

WAR IN EARNEST.

Spain is Preparing to Push the Fighting in Cuba.

INSURGENTS ARE GETTING READY

Many Small Engagements Occur—Gomes Notifies the Sugar Planters to Stop All Work.

Jacksonville, Fla., July 11.—A special to The Times-Union from Tampa, Fla., says that the Mascotte brought over several important persons this evening, among them a prominent Cuban official, who is traveling incognito. It was some time before he could be induced to talk and then very cautiously. The Times-Union correspondent succeeded in learning a few things of importance. Campos has moved from Plasencia to Tunas de Jas. Gomez marched as far as the dividing line between Port au Prince and Remedios Provinces, and then fell back to a point near the town of Puerto Principe, where he has fortified his forces. The clash between the Spanish and insurgent forces has been averted for the present by this movement, so far as the two leading armies are concerned.

The election of Palma to succeed the martyred Marti gives universal satisfaction among the patriots on the island.

Numerous collisions have taken place in different parts of the island between small forces but none are considered of much importance.

The uprising is so general and the insurrection so wide-spread, that the intelligent people among the Cubans have ceased to regard with much importance the clashes between small forces. They are mobilizing their men and it is confidently expected at no distant day a decisive battle will be fought.

The Cuban leaders believe the Spanish government has made an aggressive warlike front on this, and are preparing to meet them. They regard the financial condition of the Madrid administration as bad, and not without reason, hence they are trying to make the Spaniards spend as much money as possible before they give them a chance to measure arms.

Again the Cubans are forcing their men as rapidly as possible. This official thinks Spain intends to either conquer or make concessions within another twelve months.

SPANISH TROOPS ROUTED.

A cablegram to The Times-Union from Key West, Fla., says:

"Late advice to this city from Havana says that a battle was fought near Manzanillo on the 3d instant, between 500 fresh Spanish troops, commanded by Major Sanchez, and 200 insurgents, commanded by Rabl, in which the Spanish troops were completely routed. The insurgents captured many pieces of art.

"The report of Martinez Campos is reported very sick in a private hospital in Havana with yellow fever.

"In the battle fought between Amador Guerras and Bores the Cuban leader was killed, being the only one lost by the insurgents. The Spanish troops were almost entirely routed, only two officers and six soldiers escaping, owing to the fact of having good horses. One of the officers was badly wounded.

"The report is confirmed that Martinez Campos has issued orders that all rebels captured shall be immediately shot. The order has caused much alarm in the Spanish officers. The insurgents, when they make prisoners, simply take away their arms and ammunition and send them back to the Spanish lines.

GOMES'S MANIFESTO.

The following manifesto has been issued by Maximo Gomez:

"Encampment of the Cuban Army, Nagua, Cuba, July 10.—To the Farmers and Owners of Cuban Plantations in this District: In view of the general interest of the war for the independence of Cuba, for which we are now fighting, we consider that the export of fruits and other products, cattle, etc., to help the support of the Cuban government, which we are fighting against, to be detrimental to our own interest, and the following order is issued to the whole province:

"From this date all are prohibited from sending products to towns occupied by the enemy. Owners of sugar plantations are warned to stop all work. The plantations of those who do not will be destroyed. Those parties who will go against this order show that their sympathies are with the Spanish authorities, and will be considered as traitors and, if captured, will be treated as such. MAXIMO GOMEZ,

"Attest, SALVADOR CISNEROS."

The name of the steamship Mascotte was Ricardo Tellez y Almas, who took an active part in the last revolution, being chief of the staff of Maximo Gomez. He reports many bands going to the insurgents from Colon, in the province of Matanzas, and it is rumored in this city that he is the bearer of important messages.

"The steam tug George W. Childs arrived in this port this morning from Tortugas, where she was sent by the quarantining authorities. Charles Hernandez, reported acting as master of said tug during her passage to Jamaica, arrived in this city yesterday.

"A call has been issued for a mass meeting at the San Carlos hall for the purpose of raising $500,000 to carry on the winter campaign.

"Thomas Estrada Palma was elected a delegate at the meeting held in this city last night."

CUBAN HOSPITALS CROWDED.

With Cases of Yellow Fever Increasing at an Alarming Manner.

Washington, July 11.—The marine hospital service today received a cablegram from its representative in Cuba, Dr. Caimano, who, acting under instructions from the department, has made an examination of all the leading ports in the province of Puerto Principe and Santiago de Cuba. In most of the ports the capital of the first named province, which has suffered many deaths daily from yellow fever. The military hospitals are crowded with cases, the disease being prevalent in the most malignant form. The city is located near the central part of Cuba and has a population of 45,000. The province is the scene of much of the fighting between the Spanish troops and the insurgents, and the marine authorities are doing their best to stop it.

After adjournment at noon of the three great meetings, about fifty half-hour evangelistic services were held by the Endeavorers in churches, public buildings, places of business and in the open air throughout the city.

ATLANTA, GA., July 12, 1861.

A Pan-American Farmers' Parliament.

The Chicago Inter Ocean remarks that the plans of the Cotton States and International exposition are continually expanding. The observation is correct.

Very few people, even in the south, yet appreciate the magnitude of the exposition.

The meetings to be held in connection with it or attracted here by the exposition, will be numerous and able, bringing together the brightest minds of the country and many of the leaders in thought and action of other lands. Of these meetings the annual meeting of the farmers' national congress, October 10th, 11th, 12th, 14th, 15th and 16th, promises to be the widest in its scope and perhaps in its influence. This congress is composed of delegates appointed by the governors of the various states, each state having as many delegates as it has congressmen and United States senators. Many not delegates will attend.

At the last annual meeting thirty-six states were represented by delegates, and the attendance was from 1,500 to 2,000. Hon. A. B. White, the president of the National Editorial Association, attended and said: "This congress has been characterized by strong sense and the absence of charlatans and fellows with 'wheels in their heads' and visionary utopian schemers. It was a much abler congress than the one that recently adjourned at Washington."

The Southern Cultivator, of this city, said, in speaking of this meeting: "A distinctive and promising feature of the farmers' national congress is that it is truly, in form and essence, national and non-partisan. Sectional lines can not be drawn; partisanship has no place in its action; the unit labors for the good of the whole."

Having made it national the officers of the congress are laboring to make it pan-

American. The first assistant secretary, Colonel W. G. Whidby, of this city, conceived the idea of inviting all other national agricultural and allied bodies to send honorary delegates. The secretary, John M. Stahl, of Chicago, well and favorably known in the south, proposed a step further—to invite the governments of Mexico, the South and Central American countries and the British provinces to send delegates. The invitations have already been so generally accepted, and the delegates appointed are of such caliber, that it is safe to predict that the meeting in this city next month will be the ablest and most distinguished agricultural assemblage in our history."

In speaking of this meeting The Inter
 Ocean says:

A thoroughly nonpartisan body of farmers, having representatives from thirty-six states, have held national congresses where all subjects bearing on the interests of agriculture have been discussed.

The second national meeting has encouraged the idea of a pan-American congress, and the idea has been favorably entertained by the ministers and embas-sadors resident at Washington from Central and South American republics. The Dominion of Canada and other British posessions will be represented.

The location chosen for the meeting of the congress is Atlanta, Ga., and the time from October 10th to 16th, inclusive. It hardly is needful for The Inter Ocean to say that it approves of the project. Whatsoever tends to bring representatives of the great agricultural world together is deserving of approval.

Farming now is a trade of national and international relationship to all other trades.

A panic in England, a strike in New York, the failure of the sugar crop of California, the coffee crop of Brazil, less-for the cotton of Texas, for the meat of Montana, and for the wool of Ohio; and a shortage in the wheat, cotton or corn crop of the United States, or a season of commercial depression in Europe or America, lessens the demand for Cuban sugar or for South American coffee. The interests of the modern farmer are world-wide.

Therefore, a pan-American congress of farmers is not only desirable, but necessary, and almost inevitable that the questions of protective tariffs and of improvement of the steel and iron of the United States will come before it.

These are questions upon which it is very desirable that the agriculturists of the American world shall speak.

The Inter Ocean trusts that the congress may be well attended and that its deliberations may be productive of wise legislation.

The Constitution heartily joins its esteemed Chicago contemporary in wishing success to the proposed parliament.

We assure the delegates that they will find a true southern welcome in Atlanta and Georgia. The delegates from the other governments of this continent will find their participation in the parliament pleasant, profitable and far-reaching in results. We hope that every government to the south of us will be represented. The ties binding together the governments of this continent should be strengthened. Great profit would result from closer relations. The people of this country will have as a happy occasione the holding of a pan-American agricultural parliament.

Georgia is honored in having two officers of the Farmers' National Congress—the vice president is Major Garland M. Ryals, of Savannah. The president is Hon. B. F. Clayton, of Iowa, one of the most extensive farmers in the country, and for eight years secretary of the congress.

 and becomes a lunatic or a murderer,
 it is the liquor and not the Keeley treat-who commits a crime must be held to answer for it and not the medicine which made him a sober man for a time.

THE DAVIS MONUMENT
Atlanta Has Given Nearly $2,000 to the Fund That's Being Raised,

AND WILL GIVE MORE IF NECESSARY
The Project To Build a Monument in Atlanta May Be Abandoned.

MONIE WILL GO TO THE RICHMOND FUND
General Calhoun Writes a Letter to Mr. Donald Bain—What Mr. Bain Says in Reply.

There is soon to be a splendid monument erected to the deadness memory of Jefferson Davis, president of the confederacy, and Atlanta is going to do for full part of the work, having already given nearly $2,000 to the fund and is willing to give more.

In point of fact, Atlanta was the first of the patriotic southern cities to suggest the building of a handsome and everlasting monument of the love the southern people rendered their chief, making it a handsome and so splendid as to climax all monument building by those who cherish the traditions of the cause that was so nobly fought.

General Calhoun, in his confederacy place, and away, the late Henry Grady, with the impulse of southern patriotism and chivalry in his heart, suggested through the columns of the Constitution the building of a Davis monument in Atlanta, and started the work of raising a fund for this purpose.

A mass meeting was held in the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, the work of gathering the funds was organized.

Mr. Donald Bain, Chairman of the Atlanta Davis Monument Association.

The amount held in bank by the association is about $500.

The Atlanta Vets. To Meet.

There will be an important meeting of the Atlanta camp of the United Confederate Veterans, next Monday night, at their hall in the City Guard armory.

Important business will be transacted and is urgently requested that a full attendance be present.

In addition to the regular routine business, Hon. A. H. Cox will present to the local camp, portraits of the late Mrs. John M. W. Davis, who was for so long a time the worthy president of the Ladies' Memorial Association at Atlanta.

to so when the Confederate Veterans' Association, which determined the states of the south officially located the monument in the city of Richmond, it having been the capital of the confederacy, and the home of the south.

The veterans of every state in the south should contribute liberally to the building of the monument, and are sure that every subscriber to the fund now in possession will be glad to have it turned over to the Davis monument committee of the United Confederate Veterans as a contribution to the worth cause in which the veterans of the whole country are so deeply and nobly interested.

"It is proposed that there in the south a magnificent monument should be erected as a memorial to the beloved president of the confederacy, and as a representative of the principles and sentiments advocated by those who espoused the cause of the south.

There is now a movement to have our people are an ideal and devoted to the nation and to the flag of our common country and are those of any other section of the union, but we must not forget the fenders of the past, nor be disloyal to the patriotic impulse in the honest pursuit of which the people of the south sacrificed and suffered so much.

"It will take occasion to announce my desire to have a fund run in the hands of the Davis monument committee of the United Confederate Veterans in order that one who has subscribed to it may have opportunity to withdraw it with his subscription on object to the transfer. I think it is but right that am the fund is now in the bank and if I receive no objection by the 1st of August, I will instruct the treasurer of the Hon. Joseph Hirsch, to place the money on your disposal for the proposed transfer.

"I am with assurance that this is truly yours, DONALD M. BAIN
Chairman of the Subscription Committee of the Atlanta Davis Monument Association.

The amount held in bank by the association is about $500.

IN THE LOCAL FIELD.

Other Happenings of the Day in Court, Criminal, Social, Political, and Educational Circles in Atlanta.

Judge James A. Anderson left yesterday for Cumberland. The judge's major figure will be prominent among the bathers for several days.

The trial of the various colored Joneses, Sam, Ella, Jim and Will, did not occur before Justice Bloodworth yesterday as was expected. They are all in the stockade.

—Will Lowe is in trouble again. He is a dark-skinned youngster with a penchant for robbery. He was bound over for larceny from the house in the sum of $200.

—Jim Williams, alias Will Jameson, was bound over yesterday by Justice Bloodworth in the sum of $200 for larceny from the house. He went to jail, as he was unable to give bond.

—Argument in all of the cases in the supreme court has been finished, and the judges are now at the tedious task of making up the decisions. Within the next few weeks 300 decisions will be rendered.

—Mr. J. D. Burbridge, of the "Down in Dixie" company, passed through Atlanta yesterday on his way to Cincinnati. He has gone north to arrange for a scenic production of this popular play. The company will consist of fifty or sixty members, and will require a carload of machinery.

—George Montgomery, a train hand on the Georgia Pacific road, was thrown from his train night before last near Austell and sustained a fracture of his left arm just below the elbow. Montgomery was brought to Atlanta on the passenger train and the necessary medical attention was rendered by Dr. Westmoreland. Montgomery is now at his home on Rock street resting quietly.

What Atlanta Is Doing.

A letter has been sent to Mr. Donald Bain, chairman of the old Davis monument committee, in this city, asking that the money he has on deposit for the original project be turned over to this concentrated effort for a splendid monument at Richmond.

The following letter was received by Mr. Stevius, Colonel W. L. Calhoun, Atlanta, Ga., July 8, 1885.—Hon. Donald Bain, Chairman, etc. Dear Sir: In a recent conversation you informed me that there was in the hands of your committee the sum of $1,500, which had been sent to you by the patriotic societies of Atlanta for the purpose of building a monument to President Davis in Richmond. You have determined that the monument shall be erected in Richmond, Va., under the direction of the Davis Monument Association, and your efforts have been made to raise sufficient funds for that purpose, would it be proper to transmit this sum to the Davis Monument Association, and if so, what amount of that sum would object, and I, therefore, on behalf of the Davis Monument Association, would be glad to receive the same.

Colonel Park Woodward, who has been confined to his home for several days past threatened with typhoid fever, is now out of all danger from the anticipated illness and will be able to be out again in a few days. The colored colored is yet quite weak and his condition requires the greatest care and caution of his part. He is not permitted to be out in the sun and heat, but a short walk in the cool of the evening is allowed by his physicians.

—Clara Thompson, Melville, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. C. Melville, died yesterday afternoon at the family home on Rhodes street, after an illness of only a few days. It was evident that carried the little one away and left the once happy home desolate. Mr. and Mrs. Melville, who have been separated for only a few months, and the remains of the child will be carried to the old family home near Bristol, Tenn., for interment, leaving Atlanta this morning on the East Tennessee train.

—James Pittman, a negro, working at Jacksonville, Fla., but who was soon to have married a young negro woman in the city, was arrested last night charged with robbing the hall of registered matter.

—Postmaster Andrew Jackson Davis has been indicted for his conduct in the Boston Lodge receipt of yours of the 8th instant, to turn over to the fund some years ago for the erection of a monument in this city to the late General Davis, and suggesting that as a Confederate Veteran, he had not the right to do so. The Atlanta fund will be contributed to the general fund for the Richmond monument.

GREW SUSPICIOUS OF THE MAN

And Had Him Arrested Yesterday—He Is a Young Doctor and Says He Is Innocent.

Dr. W. M. Cleveland, a young man who claims to have come from Rockledge, Fla., last fall and who has been in Atlanta since that time in the capacity of a nurse, was arrested last night by Detectives Conn and Mehaffey and lodged in the police station, where he will be held until some of his business transactions can be looked into by the courts.

His trouble came about by his alleged connection with the company that will build the permanent and pleasure of the thousands of visitors at the Cotton States and International exposition by operating twelve beautiful and swift little electric launches upon the lake. It is said that Dr. Cleveland claimed to be an agent of that company and in that manner collected a good many dollars that he had no right to collect.

He is charged with having represented himself as the Atlanta agent of Mr. C. H. Barna, the well-known electric launch man, who, it will be remembered, attained fame and favor by his management of the fleet of boats propelled by electricity that afforded the world's fair visitors so much pleasure.

By that representation it is said that he persuaded at least four young men to place in his hands the sum of $5 each, the sum being an advance payment for the uniforms that the young men would have to purchase when they were given employment at the exposition as electric launch conductors or motormen at the instance of Dr. Cleveland.

It is probable that the public comfort committee will secure as a hotel the large building on South Forsyth street, formerly used as a livery stable. Negotiations are now pending with the Venable Bros., and it is expected that the structure will be in nearly 100 rooms and will be built in the most convenient shape. It will probably go up on the corner of Boulevard and St. Charles avenue, at a place in easy reach of the exposition grounds. It will be built of brick and stone, and will be fully and clearly brought out.

When the present board was organized a deadlock ensued. The voting was all three and three. An all-night session was held upon one occasion and the board adjourned just at daybreak. At that time the question of Commissioner Venable's eligibility was broached. It was stated by Judge W. R. Hammond and Mr. W. H. Venable, represented by John L. Hopkins & Son. This means that there will be a decided lively legal fight and the position of both sides will be fully and clearly brought out.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD.

A plain skirt and what is known as a "dinner coat," is the model of a black silk gown late from Paris, writes Nina Flitch, whose gossip on fashion is always interesting.

The quality of silk is peau de soi, whose satiny surface and soft pliable texture seem to combine the splendors of satin with the virtues of silk, and the skirt has the spreading umbrella look of all French skirts nowadays. The cut of the coat borders strongly on the Lois, which is being smartly done in full tail and opening over a vest as was the fashion of that period.

Immense jet buttons picked out with gilt ornaments the fronts, which hang slightly loose at the waist from the under arm seams; the back fits snugly into the figure, and under the small layers of the coat buttons are sewed, the white ornaments reverses, which are to be cool, are having blouses made of ecru pongee. A white for bicyclists to have the skirt button up one side of the front, which is done in a white raffia silk finished in black chintz.

Her guest, Miss Sullivan, wore a French gown of white muslin de soie daubed with narrow ruffles of valenciennes and satin ribbons.

Those present were: Miss Sullivan, Miss Mary Draper, Miss Louise Todd, Miss Colina, Miss Rosalind Howell, Miss Nellie Howell, Miss Dooly, Miss Martha Goode and Miss Wilson.

Mrs. Charles Marion, W. H. and Mrs. Frank Black and Miss Quill Orme will entertain their friends at Lookout Mountain Saturday and Sunday. The party will leave the city in a private car Saturday, returning at noon Monday.

A clever woman who has just returned from French shores has a costume made in this way, which she declares is the most useful and economical model ever known for modest folk.

Through a change of vests and reverses she is able to do an instant's变装 (change of costume) and look equally suitable on all occasions.

Besides the two low cut evening vests, with accompanying revers and ornamental cuff pieces, a smart one of mauve pique turned the fine dinner coat into a dressy morning affair.

One of the spangled batiste with a great sprig of rose of the same makes it possible for either a day or evening wear, while a low double-breasted one of black mouseline de soie in crossed bertha folds, with yellow ribbon drawn across and knotted at the belt.

A new skirt Trick.

A word may be said about the skirts of the hair-street suits. They button up entirely without lining. A bias facing half a yard deep, an interlining of bias grass-cloth the same width, finishes the bottom alone, and a trick of French dressmakers is to stretch both dress and facing together to make them fit.

This makes the skirt at the bottom even more marked and gives the skirt a delightfully easy set. At the top of the facing there are three rows of close stitching.

To Study Household Work.

That is a novel and significant movement recently set on foot by the Civic Club of Philadelphia. Its committee on household economics has suggested and will soon establish a co-operative class for the study of household work. This may be a good idea, and the members of the club, it is to be hoped, will not be afraid of the idea, being that mistresses are made alike to learn something of advantage to the one who she wishes her maid to do; the other how it may be done. It is an admitted fact, says a writer, commenting on this, that few women are now to be found in domestic service when excellent material is offered.

The majority of households are run on individual plans and theories. Listen to a set of women talking over domestic affairs, and the assertion, "I am a good housekeeper," is made by half a dozen.

It is inevitable, however, that as such a sufficient authority for any housekeeping caprice. Why should not domestic material be as exact as that of the tailor or shirtmaker? There should be a way to make bread, to sweep a room, to wait on the table, to wash clothes, to run the rag on the list, that should be universal and invariable. There would then be some hope of evolving a capable set of maids.

It is, every girl will tell each new mistress, "My last place the lady had me to do this, but I have not had time before wanted that done; which way is yours?"

The probabilities are that there are as many ways as mistresses.

Another useful rig of many possibilities brought over from Paris is a short costume of mohair in a short jacket and blue Mohair is in Paris the texture at present most seen in plain street gowns, and the favorite model is a plain skirt and a box coat with a back in one piece.

Domestic this will hang plain from a pointed yoke, and the front every time two little openings are left at the bottom of the under arm seams, making the skirt in a close fitting and becoming one of the most beautiful models in Paris.

The model of the shirt is a gored back and a front out of the width of the material, which runs two bias seams into the back, and produces at the sides a fullness of the front, so becoming and easy to the feet. The blouse is made of smoked pearl, horn or fancy metal, and even those of Dresden china, gayly flowered, are said to be in good taste.

Again, a mohair gown will show no butts, and the front of the single-breasted jacket fastening neatly under a stitched flap, such as finishes a man's box coat.

For Mother To Consider.

Here is something for mothers to study carefully. A New York dentist who stands in the front rank of his profession, said not long ago that he was almost prepared to say that "absolutely clean teeth structure need never decay." It was a strong argument in favor of the careful, particular care of the teeth, certainly, and a small price to pay for the great privilege of keeping sweet, strong and serviceable molars and bicuspids.

The neglect of the teeth in childhood is, as any dentist will say, the great cause of poor health in adult life. Patients do everything for their children except to take care during the past year. Miss Langston has returned home after a pleasant visit to Captain and Mrs. D. G. Wylie.

Professor and Mrs. Eugene Crichton have returned home from Indian Springs.

Mrs. Oliver Jones  is at Tallulah.

Miss Mattie Langston is home from Baltimore, where she has been attending school during the past year. Miss Langston is one of next season's debutantes.

Major and Mrs. John Flitten have taken the home of Mr. Jim Nunally for the year, and will reside on Peachtree street in future.

may be edged with narrow lace. Book muslin is too wiry to look easy and graceful, but India muslin drapes well, and is not expensive. The "Marie Antoinette" fabric is most favored, but all muslin need careful adjustment, and the manner of arrangement differs according to the figure of the woman. The petticoat is so. The waist is short, the fullness should come down well below the waist line.

Mustins and lace—no less than ribbon, are necessary to the fashionable toilet, for it is hardly considered complete unless all three are employed. All sorts of dainty adjuncts are made of these materials, or a narrow collar of dotted muslin, or a beaded lawn, yokes of lace and muslin, lace-trimmed collars, lace shapes designed, and very narrow ribbon is pressed into service as an additional feature. Valenciennes insertion is sometimes edged on each side with very narrow lace. The petticoat is again wider, satin ribbons have an edge of narrow Valenciennes lace. Very narrow bebe of green or black velvet is threaded in and out through open work bands of lace insertion to form yokes, collar bands and sleeve trimmings.

Some years ago loose, full, transparent blouses of net, lace insertion, etc., were worn over close-fitting silk bodices. It was a very easy fashion that has now been retired. Bodice which is the parent, is dyed in a variety of colors. It is made into blouses and worn with tucked muslin collars trimmed with narrow lace. Quite immense are some of those collars. They are made of linen, butter-colored dress, they are made of white satin trimmed with jet, pearl, gimp or iridescent sequins.

The petticoat is a pretty and vivacious young woman and has hundreds of friends and a score of admirers in the promising town of Madison. She is also the telephone operator at that place and presides over the switchboard there.

It was shortly after 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon when Mr. S. H. Willis, the manager of the telephone office, was summoned into the operator's room of the telephone office. Miss Tunnell had been working all day and had responded to a number of calls. Her hand was not the least bit unsteady, yet she said she did not feel nervous over her movements. As Mr. Willis came into the room she said to him: "May I see you a second, Mr. Willis?"

The manager stepped to the switchboard. "Would you kindly think the switchboard for me for a few minutes?" she asked. "I will be back in a minute," he replied, smiling and blushing at first, "I am going to get married in a few minutes to Mr. Hugh Moore."

While the manager was gently gasping from astonishment there was a light tap on the door, and in walked Mr. Hugh Moore, the young man who had responded to the switchboard.

They were a young couple who had been engaged to be married for a number of days. The manager stepped to the switchboard and the couple were congratulated by the manager and they went at once to the Madison hotel.

Mr. Moore Decidedly Clever.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Moore was paying attention to Miss Tunnell and it was once or twice rumored that they were to be married soon. But parental objections bobbed up coolly and forbade the bairns.

Mr. Moore decided himself of a splendid plan. He gave it out to all his friends that he was going to leave Madison to take a position in Rome. This was several days ago. On Wednesday his manager, Mr. Willis, came to the hotel to see him off. Mr. Willis, Miss Tunnell calmly turned to respond to a call as Mr. Willis stammeringly greeted Mr. Moore.

The manager gallantly took charge of the switchboard and Rev. Mr. Wimburn, the minister, came in and the couple proceeded to pronounce the couple man and wife. In the meantime, Mr. Willis could only listen to a part of the ceremony, as he was kept busy answering calls. Thus the service was not interrupted.

The young couple were congratulated by the manager and they went at once to the Madison hotel.

MOODY'S CAMPAIGN.

It Will be the Great Religious Feature of the Exposition.

$5,000 IN MONEY IS NEEDED

This Will Provide for the Erection of an Auditorium, Besides Paying All Expenses—The Ministers Meeting.

The religious feature of the Cotton States and International exposition will be the Moody campaign.

Not only the church-going people of Atlanta, but the general public as well, are interested in the coming of the great evangelist and are looking forward to his visit with peculiar pleasure. Mr. Moody is known in every part of the world, and his name has become a household word in almost every land under the sun.

Thousands of people flock to hear him. Mr. Moody has frequently addressed as many as ten thousand people in his congregation and held them all spellbound by the witchery of his eloquence. He is specially fitted for his great work and has the satisfaction of knowing that he has taken an active and successful part in the great work of redeeming the world and of saving men from lives of degradation and sin.

The people of Atlanta have long felt a strong desire to hear the evangelist, but he has never been able to accept an invitation until this year. The same interest in the coming of Mr. Moody that is felt by the people of Atlanta is shared in a measure by the people of Georgia. Hundreds will find in these meetings the chief loadstone that will bring them to the exposition and Mr. Moody will have an opportunity of addressing people from all parts of Georgia and the south.

In fact, this is the main consideration that induced Mr. Moody to make Atlanta his camping ground this fall. He plainly foresees that a great movement was on foot and that during the months of September, October, November and December Atlanta would be the chief city of the nation, with the eyes of the entire world riveted upon her. Accordingly, when the invitation of the ministers' alliance reached him, he gave it prompt and favorable consideration.

The only condition named by Mr. Moody in his letter of acceptance was that of an auditorium. He realized that it would be utter folly to accept the invitation unless the people of Atlanta would provide accommodations for the crowd that would flock to hear him during the exposition.

His experience had taught him this and accordingly he made the stipulation in his letter. He says that he will be obliged to have an auditorium with a seating capacity of 3,000. The committee wrote back to Mr. Moody and assured him that a suitable structure would be erected. In response to this letter, Mr. Moody replied that he would devote the month of November to his religious campaign in Atlanta.

About two months ago Mr. Sankey, on his way home, came to Atlanta in behalf of Mr. Moody. He was deeply impressed by the interest and sympathy shown by the people of Atlanta and especially with the outlook for a successful religious campaign in this city. A public meeting was held at the Young Men's Christian Association and Mr. Sankey, after making a short address, rendered in his own pleasing and happy manner, several familiar hymns. Mr. Sankey made a visit to the lot on the corner of Williams and Cain streets, which he considered the most available one for the purpose of an auditorium. He then left for Northfield, Mass., to submit his report to Mr. Moody.

Since Mr. Moody first accepted the invitation of the ministers' alliance several months ago, the exposition has grown into a mammoth proportions and various appropriations have increased its national importance. In view of this fact, and the prospect of reaching hundreds and thousands of people, Mr. Moody will likely be induced to devote more than a month to his religious campaign. The opportunity for reaching the masses will be second only to that of the world's fair.

50,000 Is Needed.

Everything is now ready for the building of the auditorium. For this purpose and to meet current expenses the sum of $5,000 is needed.

Mr. Moody has been invited to Atlanta by members of all the evangelical churches and is being given a hearty approval and sanction of the business men of the city. The Moody committee appointed by Dr. Atkinson, the president of the ministers' alliance, is composed of ministers and lay members equally divided. Nearly all the leading churches are represented. Dr. Atkinson, by virtue of his being the chairman of this committee and he has entered upon his work with marvelous enthusiasm. In addition to his ministerial qualifications, Dr. Atkinson has the pushing qualities of a great manager. He has devoted much of his time to the success of this great forward movement in behalf of Atlanta's spiritual character.

Mr. Moody has identified himself more intimately with the forces that are building up Atlanta morally than Dr. Atkinson. This much, by way of parenthesis, is due to him in this connection.

The auditorium, as figured upon by the alliance, will not be an expensive structure. It will be commodious, however, and will be constructed for the use of the building. It will have a seating capacity of 5,000. The location, on the corner of Cain and Williams streets, will be convenient to four street car lines: Peachtree, Spring, Luckie and Marietta streets, and will be in easy access of all parts of the city.

How It Will Be Raised.

The plan of raising the money was made the subject of discussion at a meeting of the ministers' alliance last Wednesday afternoon.

It was agreed that each pastor should bring the matter before his congregation and explain to them the necessity of carrying on a religious campaign during the exposition. Dr. Atkinson addressed a circular letter to the ministers representing Atlanta, mailing one to every pastor in the city. He urged upon them the importance of bringing the matter before their congregations next Sunday. He also requested each pastor to appoint a committee from his church membership and meet in conference with similar committees at the Young Men's Christian Association next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

If everybody lends a helping hand the money can be raised without difficulty. As the pastor, Dr. Atkinson, Dr. Strickler, Dr. Robins and Dr. Williamson was appointed to call upon the chairman of the finance committee of the exposition for the purpose of soliciting aid from that body.

The committee will call upon Mr. Inman this week.

Nothing is likely to interfere with the building of the auditorium. The money will be raised, for the people of Atlanta have agreed to raise it, and Mr. Moody will be greeted with a large, commodious building on his arrival in this city.

HAVE A NEW PLAN.

Piedmont Driving Club Officials Working on a New Line.

The Piedmont Driving Club will be entirely reorganized, the grounds upon which the clubhouse now stands bought in, and the site given to the New York building.

For several days the club officials have been unusually active, urged on by a desire to accommodate the commissioners from New York. All the plans have been made, and it only remains for a small amount to be subscribed before the whole affair is consummated. Several other minor details will also have to be considered, but it is thought by the officers of the club that these can be quickly brushed away, and then the club will own that choice spot upon which the house is built.

When the commissioners from New York reached Atlanta they looked about the exposition grounds with a view of selecting the place for their state building to go up.

Several objections, from their point of view, stood in the way of the location which was fixed by the exposition officials, and the New Yorkers began to open their eyes for another place. They then determined to get the club site and build next door to Philadelphia, if that were possible.

They talked with the club officers, and the negotiations now pending are the result of the continued efforts of the commissioners from the Empire State.

Some Business Points.

The present business arrangements of the grounds are rather complicated, and this will delay for a while the consummation of the scheme. The grounds are the property of the exposition company, and it is to this that the club pays rent for the acres it occupies. The ground not used is leased by the club to the Cotton States and International Exposition Company.

The Piedmont Driving Club is not chartered.

When the commissioners made application to the club it was not found convenient, or rather it was found that certain complications would arise if it was granted to put up the New York structure there.

Mr. James Sankey, who conceived the idea, after conferring with the members and officials of the club, of buying in the property and reorganizing everything.

The club officers have started out to raise $25,000. It is their purpose at present to get 125 members who will each subscribe $200. When this amount is raised the whole lot can be bought in and will remain, with the buildings, the permanent property of the club.

The display will be thoroughly up to date and will be of great value to the dramatic world.

THE ATLANTAS WENT AGAINST THE EVANSVILLE TEAM YESTERDAY AND LOST.

Chattanooga, one of the tall-tail clubs, went up against the Nashvilles and won at the same time.

Hornor was in the box for Atlanta, but it was evident not Hornor's day, and the players who are on Beard's payroll pouted him a little bit.

There was a good crowd out to see the game—a better crowd than Evansville's, but the interest was not quite so great.

The Atlanta's usually win, and that combined with the fact that he was not at his best, gave the game against the Atlantans. There were several fancy plays made during the game.

HOW 'Twas Lost.

Evansville, Ind., July 11.—(Special)—The 100 people who went out to the league park this afternoon to witness the opening game between Evansville and Atlanta saw a splendid contest.

From the position these clubs occupy in the general race they could not be more of the earnestness which each team put into the game. It was a fight to the finish, and the visitors, who were worsted, did not give up till the last man in the ninth inning was put out.

The game was full of brilliant, snappy, adding on both sides, and the contest took on such a decided scientific in the game. Nothing was too hot for any side to go after.

The players took chances on making errors that they would have hardly done under ordinary circumstances, and when the game was over the people went away delighted with the afternoon's sport.

First race, five furlongs, Frank Harris won. Second race, Dulcie Larance third. Time, 1:02.

Third race, one mile, Dora won. Aurelian second, Gutta Percha third. Time, 1:03.

Fourth race, the Nautilus stakes, mile and a sixteenth, Monaco won, Paladine second. Derby third, Time, 1:04.

Fac-tum second, Frig third, Time, 1:04.

Six race, five furlongs, Fannie B. won. Second attempt second, Aimer third. Time, 1:03.

TIME OF THE WHEELMEN.

A Day of Great Sport at Asbury Park.

Asbury Park, N. J., July 11.—The rain fell this morning upon the trial heats of the first day's racing of the League of American Wheelmen's national meet ceased before the afternoon's work began, although lowering clouds lingered and damp breezes threatened during the entire session. The weather was cool, and little interest was shown except upon the crowd which filled the grand stand and went a long way out on the new bleachers. The racing was all of a high order and unexpectedly free from accidents considering the dangerous-looking odds on which it was run at day's work, but better is promised for tomorrow and Saturday.

The players took chances on making errors that they would have hardly done under ordinary circumstances, and when the game was over the people went away delighted with the afternoon's sport.

In the ninth inning four men crossed the plate. First three of them reached first by drawing bad balls of sufficient number. Danny was as cool as a chunk of ice and watched the bases like a hawk, all of which redounded to his credit in the final summing up.

Hornor was rated as one of the best of the Atlanta's, and he did not let them down. After the first three men that faced him he little thought that he had run against his Waterloo. The ill-treatment accorded him with the stick began in the second inning and from that time on was poured into him at intervals of every other inning till the end of the game. The story of the game is given in the table below.

It is true the visitors made several hits of him, but with the gilt-edged support of his men they were kept well seated.

Hornor was rated as one of the best of the Atlanta's, and he did not let them down. After the first three men that faced him he little thought that he had run against his Waterloo. The ill-treatment accorded him with the stick began in the second inning and from that time on was poured into him at intervals of every other inning till the end of the game. The story of the game is given in the table below.

It is true the visitors made several hits of him, but with the gilt-edged support of his men they were kept well seated.

In the ninth inning four men crossed the plate. First three of them reached first by drawing bad balls of sufficient number.

Danny was as cool as a chunk of ice and watched the bases like a hawk, all of which redounded to his credit in the final summing up.

FORECASTS TO BE ISSUED DAILY NOW.

Important Reforms in Our Local Weather Service—Auditor Algeo Files Answer to the Bill Against Him.

Under the splendid management of Mr. George E. Hunt, the local observer, who has been in charge of the weather bureau at this point for only a few months, the station has become one of the most important in the United States.

Mr. Hunt is a live, progressive and energetic man. He believes in pushing forward and ever since he came to Atlanta this striking characteristic has been evident. He saw in the beginning that many improvements were needed in order to perfect the service, and just as soon as he entered upon the duties of his office he buckled down to business without ceremony. Mr. Hunt has made a capital record for himself and if he keeps up the tick there is no telling how far short of perfection his efforts to improve the service will end.

Last Wednesday morning a telegram was received by Mr. Hunt from the chief of the bureau at Washington authorizing him to send out daily forecasts to every station in Georgia and Alabama, instead of conditional forecasts as heretofore.

This is a movement in the right direction. It means a great deal more than appears on the surface. Heretofore only sudden and decided changes have been announced and the system has proven a very unsatisfactory one.

As it is now, under the change brought about by the instructions of the chief observer, a weather forecast will be issued every morning. This will be sent out over the wires bright and early and the outlook for the day will be announced at a hundred different stations all over Georgia. The value of this important change to produce shippers cannot be estimated. The good results according from it will not only be manifest, but immediate.

This happy stroke has been accomplished through the cordial relations existing between Mr. Hunt and the chief observer, Mr. Willis L. Moore. Both officials have been in the service for many years and they have struggled up together. They have likewise retained for each other the friendly feelings begotten long years ago in the hardships of an humble beginning. On the 4th of July Mr. Moore was elevated from the weather bureau at Chicago to be in charge of the Atlanta station. It was the first acts of his administration, therefore, to have issued the instructions received at the weather bureau yesterday.

"I have already commenced to issue the daily forecasts," said Mr. Hunt yesterday afternoon. "I was ready as soon as the telegram came and I had nothing to do but to put the forecast on the wires."

He looked very much pleased as he quoted the language of the telegram, which he held in his hands.

"I intend," said he, "to make the service and he will do it."

And the will do it.

That of any bureau in the United States, vice of the Atlanta bureau as thorough as this.

Mr. Algeo's Answer Filed.

Mr. Williams E. Algeo, auditor and treasurer of the Atlanta and Florida Railway Company, has filed his answer to the complaint of the Atlanta bureau as thorough as this.

The most cosmopolitan place of entertainment in the city is the People's Parlor Restaurant, at No. 16 Peachtree street. The cooking is exquisite and home-like, the service is prompt and efficient, and the police perfect. The managers speak English, French, Italian, Greek, Arabic, Egyptian, etc., and have both the knowledge and tact to please people from any part of the world.
